Warning & Liability

We'd like to point out that salt is hygroscopic, this means it attracts water. This may cause corrosion in metal objects (for example, sauna stoves etc.). In case of such effects, we exclude any liability for damages to goods which are not object of the purchase contract.

This order form will give you an overview of our products.

Only a few of the products are stock goods, usually the products are made to order.

* Our salt tiles are selected carefully and processed with high quality workmanship. Due to unfavorable circumstances, however, they may break or crack during transport. Therefore, some products are shipped and delivered for self-assembly. Assembly is easy and fast. If you have any further questions, please contact us.
