Xihe: flat lamp out of rose salt with an oak frame

Noble design for well-being

Would you like a decent design and genuinely artistic craftsmanship? Then you'll like the Xihe lamp from the Salt Relax® manufactory. The Xihe lamp consists of a wooden frame that surrounds tiles made of rose salt. The Xihe wall lamp is suitable - also as constant lighting - for your living room, the corridor, the children's room or the dining room. The lamp Xihe Ground is a floor lamp with flexible possibilities for use, wherever you want to place the wellness lamp. The Xihe lamp spreads its soft light in hotels, doctors' practices, law offices, therapy rooms and in high-class gastronomy.

A good indoor atmosphere

The salt encourages a pleasant indoor atmosphere; it binds odours, has an antibacterial effect and purifies the air. The soft light of the Xihe LED calms and relaxes. The salt lamp has a flat design. It is mounted at a distance of 1 cm from the wall. This distance enables the entire surface to interact with the ambient air. The salt tiles constantly emit trace elements into the air and ionise the air.

Salt and Feng Shui

Salt is of great importance in the teachings of Feng Shui. According to Feng Shui, there are five elements: earth, water, wood, fire and metal. Salt is associated with water; it is nourished by metal and wood is supported by salt. Those versed in Feng Shui use salt in order to neutralise negative energy flows. Our salt and salt-light objects are ideally suited for this purpose.
